Single Family on 0.02 Acres

Aisling, Victoria, British Columbia

Welcome to The Aisling, a Samuel Maclureâ€”designed residence built in 1911, during the same era he was designing some of his most famous Prairie-style homes in Rockland. Unlike those horizontal forms, this steep-gabled character homeâ€”later converted into seven suitesâ€”stands tall on the crest of Gonzales Hill and offers striking half-timbering and leaded glass details. Suite F is a one-bedroom plus den on the quiet rear of the building, surrounded by treetop views through large windows on three sides that make it feel like so much more than a typical condo. The bright den serves as your small second bedroom, office, or creative nook. Step outside and youâ€™re just moments from Gonzales Beach, with Fairfield Village, cafÃ©s, and schools just a short walk away. A rare find for a character conversion, the building includes an elevator and parking roughed in for EV charging. This unique, light-filled, character-rich condo blends history, comfort, and location in one truly special home. (id:6289)
