Rossland, Rossland, British Columbia

Private 10-Acre Mountain Escape. Looking for a rural location without giving up convenience? Here's a 10-acre property just outside Rossland that offers up the best of both - land to stretch out on and 2 minutes to town. Tucked into the hillside and set back from the road, the house is perched on helical piles which elevates it above the landscape and opens up the views. Floor-to-ceiling windows bring the mountains right into your living room. Built by Drop Structures in 2023 the small home is a sleek modern prefab. It's cozy, bright, and thoughtfully designed. Wander the property on your private trail system and you'll find a gentle year-round stream, heritage apple trees and a lush meadow glowing under the southern sun. Biking, hiking, or horseback riding, you can hit the Rossland trail network straight from your door. Golf, skiing, snowboarding and xc are a within a few kms. For hobby farmers or horse lovers, this place is ready to go with 4 fenced acres, a 14x36ft open barn with power, water, RV plug, and hay storage, a 20 ft shipping container storage unit in place and a solar array that is tied into the grid and produces more power than the farm currently uses. The lower elevation and southern exposure provides a nice growing season. With two separate titles, 400 amp power, well water, new septic and multiple home sites to choose from, there's loads of potential to expand or build yourself a larger family home. Garden longer, ride farther, and enjoy more sunshine

If you're dreaming of a simpler lifestyle, more space, or a sweet outdoor basecamp, this one is worth exploring. (id:6289)
